

Travel Itinerary

One of the most important parts of moving abroad is figuring out how exactly to get yourself to where you want to be! This aspect of the job will probably not be one of the most exciting, but it is ostensibly the most important. We here at Talbot Thingamajig, Inc., also need to have an idea of what the various costs associated with your move will be. To assist us in this, then, you will be creating a presentation that will bring all of the information in one place. We have created a list of what you need to include.

Many thanks – M.H.

All of the following information needs to be included on the presentation. Use prezi.com to create your presentation. Profe Pickett and Frau Spring have created a sample presentation for you to use as a template of sorts. That website is: http://prezi.com/wl_vl4elmomr/edit/#2_4299178. Be sure to use one of the templates on prezzi.com which will allow you to easily create your project.

As you can see, the prezzi has five sections. Each page needs to include certain information.

- Home page: This page should include a nice picture of your city. We want to see where we are sending you!
You have a choice of two countries from each culture. Choose wisely!
 - Russia: Moscow and St. Petersburg
 - China: Shanghai and Beijing
 - Dubai: Dubai
 - Egypt: Cairo
 - India: Delhi and Mumbai
 - Italy: Rome and Venice
 - Spain: Madrid and Barcelona
 - France: Paris and Marseilles
 - Germany: Berlin and Munich
- Getting There section: This section needs to include:
 1. Cost of plane tickets: Try to find the cheapest, but most direct, route to your city from Pittsburgh. Use Travelocity.com.
 2. Immunizations: Because of various diseases prevalent in certain parts of the world, it may be necessary to get certain immunizations to protect against those diseases. Find out what shots you would need to live there.
 3. Passport: You will need a passport. Find out how much it will cost and where it you can get one. Fill out the passport application form for adults. (CONTINUED)

4. Currency: Find out what the local currency is and what the exchange rate is for the US dollar. You will be given $2,000 to get settled in to your new home. Find out how much $2,000 will be worth in your new country.
- Living There section: This section should include information about where you can live in your city. Research what neighborhoods are good, choose one, and then give a rationale as to why you have chosen that place.
 - Getting Around There section: This section needs to include how you intend to travel in your new hometown. Can you ride the subway or bus? Do people own cars there? Should you ride a bike? How much will it cost to use this mode of transportation?
 - Playing There section: This page will probably be the most fun. You should include where you can go to enjoy yourself. After all, all work and no play... Find out the best places to eat, shop, sight see, and to be entertained.
